Make sense of your puzzle

Adrian Rogers - Saturday, August 11, 2018

Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts. Psalm 139:23

A little boy had a jigsaw puzzle. On one side it had a map of the world, on the other side, a picture of a man. His mother asked him to try to work it. Before long the little fellow had put the puzzle together. The mother was surprised to find her little son knew so much about geography. "How on earth did you do that?" she asked.

"Oh," he said, "I worked the other side first. When I got the man right, the world was right."

How true that is! Let me tell you something, friend—you will never understand this world, you will never understand the universe, until you get the man right, the man Christ Jesus. You must see who Jesus is—that Jesus is Lord. We will never fix this world until we get the man right, the man Jesus Christ.

Are things in your world confusing you these days? Turn to Jesus and trust Him to make sense of what you don't understand.
