Does Obedience to God Affect Others?

Adrian Rogers - June 16, 2023

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

PSALM 51:10

There are so many people who fall and stumble because of what they saw in someone else's life. When a giant oak falls in the woods, not only does that oak fall, but it also pulls down all kinds of saplings and other trees with it. What a tragedy this is. How terrible it is for these people to do this.

Others are looking on. Why be good? None of us lives in isolation. You're the best Christian and the worst Christian that somebody knows. You're the only Bible that somebody is reading.

There are times when I grow cold in my faith. There are times when the things I do for the Lord Jesus seem to take the place of the Lord Jesus Christ. When that happens, I have to get down on my face before God and give God everything—give God my health, give God my family, give God my reputation, give God everything, and say, "Dear God, if there's something I haven't surrendered, I want you to show it to me." Sign a blank piece of paper and say, "It's yours, Lord. Fill it in. Whatever it is, O God, I give it all to you." And He will be faithful to fill you with His light.
